

MUSTACHES

Alex Trebek is not only the host of Jeopardy, but he is also member of a group of famous men known for their mustaches. In some cultures a mustache is a symbol of status, and also makes each of these men a

-
- 1 This German-born theoretical physicist, won the 1921 Nobel Prize in Physics.
  - 2 This member of Bolsheviks party played a senior role in the October Revolution of 1917.
  - 3 This American actor is most known for his role in an 1939 epic film set in the South during the American Civil War.
  - 4 This Austrian-born German politician became Chancellor in 1933.
  - 5 This animated character is a grouchy gunslinging prospector who has an intense hatred of rabbits.
  - 6 This American actor was typecast as a cowboy; who played Patrick Swayze's mentor in Road House.
  - 7 This fictional Belgian detective was portrayed by a British actor in a television series.
  - 8 This actor played a fictional private investigator who lived in the guest house of a 200 acre beach side estate.
  - 9 This film critic reviewed movies for NBC's The Today Show from 1973 until his retirement in 2010.
  - 10 This silent film artist was one of the co-founders of United Artists in 1919.
  - 11 This American comedian is famous for his one liners and lets you know who you might be if you have two cars parked on your lawn.
  - 12 This American filmmaker whose troupe, Dreamlanders, was filled with colorful characters, including porn star Tracy Lords.
  - 13 This fictional character played by Johnny Depp is based on Keith Richards and Pepe Le Pew.
  - 14 This New York born journalist was the host of the ill-fated Mystery of Al Capone's Vaults.
  - 15 This Chief Justice of the United States is the only Justice to have also been President.
  - 16 This man was the preeminent leader of Indian nationalism in British-ruled India.
  - 17 This fictional character became famous in the 2006 film where he travels the "US and A" looking for Pamela Anderson.
  - 18 This Argentine Marxist revolutionary was executed in Bolivia in 1967.
  - 19 This American actor played a Congressman that likes the feeling of Vaseline squishing between his toes.
  - 20 This professional wrestler was born Terry Gene Bollea.
  - 21 This New York born outdoorsman has stuffed animals named after him.
  - 22 This American poet, credited for creating the detective fiction genre, also had an interest in cryptography.
  - 23 This criminal mastermind, first introduced in the first half of the 20th century by Sax Rohmer, has a mustache named after him.
  - 24 This fictional character is the anchorman for San Diego's KVWN-TV.
  - 25 This Representative from California started his career in the music industry and starred in a variety television show along side his wife.
  - 26 This prolific artist produced over 60 albums with his band, The Mothers of Invention.
  - 27 This eccentric Spanish painter is buried in a crypt in the museum that he designed.
  - 28 This American satirist took his pen name from working on river boats as a young man.
  - 29 This adult film actor is known for his large appendage, as well as owning a swinger's club in Portland, OR.
  - 30 This co-star of Harlem Nights is widely regarded as one of the most important and influential stand-up comedians.

MUSTACHES

