

Oh no! You spilled your tortilla chips everywhere and now need to reconstruct them into various three-dimensional shapes before you can enjoy your guacamole!

Luckily, your chips come with conveniently numbered edges. You can only place two chips next to each other along an edge if both chips share the same number on that edge.

Once you've recovered your arrangements, you should find sum more guacamole to dip the corners of your chips into.

Scissors and tape will be useful here.

Make sure you think about both shapes shown below!
